See more of the awards Learn more Edit Ohio high school senior Scott Thomas is a good student and a good guy - albeit a little predictable - who is about to finish and go to pre-medical. He unceremoniously dumped his girlfriend Fiona on prom. Among the people he addresses in an hour of despair is his German pen pal, Mike. Scott and Mike seem to have a special connection. After Mike advances towards Scott now that he and Fiona can't see each other, Scott suddenly sends Mike a message that he never wants to hear from him again. However, Scott learns short after that that Mike is actually a beautiful girl named Mika. By this time, Miki had blocked his messages. Thinking that Mika is actually the one with whom he was supposed to be, Scott, impulsively for a change, decides to go to Berlin to be with her. Along with the trip is Scott's best friend, girl crazy Cooper Harris. They manage only to get a flight to London, and thus have to make their way from London to Berlin. On the way to Paris, they ... Along with the trip is Scott's best friend, girl crazy Cooper Harris. They manage only to get a flight to London, and thus have to make their way from London to Berlin. On the way to Paris, they run to their school friends, twins Jenny and Jamie, who are backpacking around Europe. Scott and Cooper consider their most incompatible twins ever, Jamie, who is a walking encyclopedia, and Jenny the girl they regard as just one of the guys. As the four try to make their way to Berlin, they face several obstacles and several adventures. Scott hopes all these problems are worth it when he has his much hyped in his mind meeting with Mika. 2004 jeff Shaffer film EuroTripTheatrical release posterDirector Jeff Shaffer Producer Alec Berg David Mandel Daniel Goldberg Jackie Marcus Author Jeff Shaffer Alec BergEl Mandel Starring Scott Mehlovich Jakob Pitts Michelle Trachtenberg Travis Wester Music James L. VenCineablematographyDavid EggbyEd byRoger Bond - February 20, 2004 (2004-02-20) Running time92 minutes is an American sex-comedy film directed by Jeff Shaffer, written by Alec Berg, David Mandel and Shaffer. Starring Scott Mehlovich, Jacob Pitts, Michelle Trachtenberg, Travis Wester, and Jessica Boehrs (in their film debut). Mehlovich portrays Scott Scotty Thomas, an American teenager who travels around Europe in search of his German pen pal Mika (Boehrs). Accompanied by his friend Cooper (Pitts) and twin brothers Jenny and Jamie (Trachtenberg and Wester), Scott's quest leads him to London, Paris, Amsterdam, Bratislava, Berlin and Rome, facing awkward, humorous and awkward situations along the way. In Hudson, Ohio, Scott Scotty Thomas dumped his girlfriend, Fiona, just after he graduated from high school. Along with his best friend, Cooper Harris, Scott attends the prom that evening, where the band performs a song detailing Fiona's affair with the band singer. Scotty returns home drunk and angry and reads a letter from his German pen pal, Mika, whom Scotty calls Mike, expressing sympathy for Scotty and inviting them to meet in person. Cooper suggests that Mike may be a sexual predator, and Scotty tells Mika to stay away from him. Scotty's younger brother Burt informs him that Mika is actually a common German female name. Realizing that he had mistaken her name and that he has feelings for Mika, Scotty tries to contact her again, but discovers that Mika has blocked his email address. Scotty decides to go to Europe with Cooper to find Mika and apologize personally. Scotty and Cooper arrive in London, where they became friends with the football hooligan firm Manchester United, led by Mad Maynard. After a night of drinking, Scotty and Cooper wake up on the bus on the way to Paris with the bullies. In Paris, they meet their classmates Jenny and Jamie, fraternal twins who tour Europe together. Jenny and Jamie decide to accompany Scotty and Cooper to find Mika in Berlin. The group goes to Amsterdam, where Jamie is robbed during oral sex in an alley, losing all the money, passports and train tickets. They try to hitchhike to Berlin, but because of language misunderstanding, they end up in Bratislava. Finding a great exchange rate with the U.S. dollar, the group goes to a nightclub. Drunk on absinthe, Jenny and Jamie untie each other, witnessing Scotty and Cooper, and terrified when they realize what they are doing. The next day the Slovak takes them to Berlin, where they learn that Miki has left with a summer tour group, and will be achievable in Rome only for a short time. Jamie sells his Leica camera for flights to Rome. In Rome, the band heads to the Vatican, where Mika tours until the summer at sea. Inside the Vatican, Scotty and Cooper search for Mika and accidentally ring a bell that signals the pope's death. Scotty appears on the balcony and spots Mika in applause from the crowd who took it to him newly elected pope. The Swiss Guard detains Scotty and Cooper for their actions, but they are rescued by London hooligans from Manchester. Scotty finally introduces himself to Mika and confesses his love. Mika is happy to see him, and they had sex in a confessional booth before she leaves on her trip. On a flight back to Ohio, Jenny and Cooper give in to their urges and have sex in the plane's toilet, while Jamie remains in Europe after being hired by Arthur Memmer. As the film comes to an end, Scotty moves to Oberlin College in the term of the fall. During a phone conversation with Cooper, who is now dating Jenny, Mika knocks on his door, being assigned to the same room because of another misunderstanding about her name. Scotty and Mick cuddle and sleep together. Starring Scott Mechlowicz as Scott Scotty Thomas: A recent high school graduate who inadvertently makes the mistake of thinking his longtime German correspondent Mika to be a homosexual man, thanks to his limited fluency to speak German. When he learns that Mika is actually an attractive woman, Scotty travels around Europe to Berlin to ask her for forgiveness. Mehlovich described Scotti as a flawed but kind-hearted man who was very lucky to have such a good group of friends to support him. Jacob Pitts as Cooper Harris: Scotty's rude, libid best friend. Pitts described Cooper as a hypersexual man who is driven by his own basic impulses... which gets everyone else in trouble. Michelle Trachtenberg as Jenny, Scotty and Cooper's girlfriend and twin sister Jamie. Trachtenberg described Jenny as a savvy book and a risk-taker. She's more willing to take risks or go on an adventure, while Jamie should always be convinced. Trachtenberg said, Travis Wester as Jamie: Jenny's twin brother. Wester described Jamie as a lifelong student whose aspirations were to accumulate and spread knowledge. Jessica Boers as Mick Schmidt as Scotty's German pen. Boers made her film debut with EuroTrip. The cast also includes Vinnie Jones as Mad Maynard (leader of Manchester United FC), Football Hooligans), Lucy Lawless as Madame Vandersexxx (dominatrix sex club), Patrick Malahide as Arthur Frommer, Magger, Fred Armisen in The Creepy Italian Guy, Christine Croke in Fiona (Scotty's ex-girlfriend), Niall Ishakov as Bert Thomas (Scotty's younger brother) and Matt Damon as Donnie Manu as Robot Man. In addition, according to the commentary of the track, all the scenes were filmed in Prague, Czech Republic, especially on the streets near Rudolfinum. The first scenes, installed in the United States, were filmed at the International School of Prague. The scene where the main characters at the Paris train station was filmed at Prague's main railway station (Hlavní nádraží). The scene at the Vatican was actually filmed at the Prague National Museum. Scenes of a German lorry driver were filmed on the then unfinished D5 motorway near Pilsen. Receiving a Critical Response Review aggregation website Rotten Tomatoes gives the film a 47% rating based on 120 reviews, and an average of 5.1/10. Critical consensus site says: The trip is worth taking if one is not offended by gratuitous nudity and bad taste. On Metacritic, the film scored 45 out of 100, based on 30 reviews, which indicates mixed or average reviews. In her review for Salon, Stephanie Sakharek wrote: The dizzying absurdity of Eurotrip is a pleasant surprise: the picture begins slowly and erratically in its rhythms. But just when you start to wonder if it will ever get funny, or if he'll just be desperate all the way through, he takes off like a wobbly helicopter, and somehow he keeps flying. Ultra Culture blogger Charlie Lin, who also presented the film in 2011 at the Institute of Contemporary Art, wrote that EuroTrip is a satire on his most brazen self-hating and defiantly entertaining. In the New York Times, Elvis Mitchell wrote that almost every girl in a film with less than 10 lines to speak, should take off her top. In his review for the Village Voice, Michael Miller criticized the film for constant anxiety that women can turn out to be men, and vice versa. The Box Office Film was released in the U. S. and Canada on February 20, 2004 in 2,512 theaters. Over the first weekend the film grossed $6.7 million. It went for a gross of $17.8 million in the United States and Canada and $3 million in other territories, a total worldwide of $20.8 million. The theatrical version was released on Blu-ray in 2013.
